Byron Deulofeu is a partner at the firm, where he began his professional career in 2011. He has over a decade of experience in dispute resolution, specializing in commercial and international arbitration, complex litigation, and high-stakes business disputes.

His practice focuses on designing strategies for sophisticated disputes, ranging from preventive advice in pre-litigation phases to representation before judicial courts and arbitral tribunals. He has a particular focus on commercial and corporate disputes, intellectual property, tort law, and conflicts related to the legal framework of the electricity sector.

In 2017, he earned a Master's Degree in Business and Commercial Law from the University of Barcelona and has pursued postgraduate studies in non-contractual liability and international commercial arbitration.

He is a member of the Chartered Institute of Arbitrators (CIArb) and a professor at Universidad Francisco Marroquín, where he teaches General Theory of Procedure and Civil Procedural Law.

Practice Areas

- Litigation and Arbitration

Representative Cases

Byron has acted as counsel in commercial arbitrations before the ICC International Court of Arbitration in matters related to the electricity sector. He has also defended the interests of a business group in a multijurisdictional litigation involving various arbitral tribunals across the region.

He has successfully represented prominent hospital groups and medical service companies in civil liability actions within the regulatory framework of the healthcare industry.

In the electricity subsector, Byron actively defends clients' interests before industry authorities and competitors in a regulated market.

In the telecommunications field, he succeeded in asserting a client's rights in the face of intellectual property and copyright infringement, in a landmark case for the region due to its legal impact and scope.
