Since 2024, she has been part of the firm's legal team, where she began her career as a Paralegal. Previously, she developed her professional path in public institutions and private law firms, which provided her with comprehensive training in various branches of law, including civil, corporate, labor, judicial, and asylum law.

She currently serves as a Junior Lawyer, responsible for drafting corporate documents, preparing and monitoring inheritance cases, and developing real estate matters; providing comprehensive legal support in corporate and civil affairs.

During her academic training, she actively participated in Moot Court Arbitration competitions, strengthening her argumentative and legal analysis skills. Additionally, she is proficient in German and English, which complements her professional profile in international and multidisciplinary contexts.
