María Ofelia Pixtún has been part of Mayora & Mayora since 1994. Throughout her career at the firm, she has developed a strong practical foundation and a comprehensive understanding of legal practice, stemming from her prior experience as a legal secretary in the Corporate, Intellectual Property, and Litigation departments, as well as her role as a legal assistant in the litigation area. Her professional growth has been marked by consistent performance and in-depth knowledge of legal processes.

She currently serves as a Junior Associate, with her practice focused on litigation, actively involved in the drafting of legal documents and the management and follow-up of cases in administrative, labor, and criminal matters.

Representative Matters

She has participated in the preparation, management, and follow-up of administrative, labor, and criminal proceedings, providing support in the drafting of briefs, motions, and other procedural filings required for the effective defense of clients' interests. Her experience includes direct involvement in the development of procedural strategies and the ongoing monitoring of case files before various authorities and courts.
