Professional Summary

Nathaly Peraza joined Mayora & Mayora in August 2023 as part of the Corporate and Administrative practice, where she focuses on providing ongoing legal advice to commercial entities regarding corporate governance and regulatory compliance. Her practice is centered on corporate matters and administrative procedures before public authorities.

In 2024, she successfully passed the notarial qualification exam, becoming authorized to perform notarial functions. In March 2026, she was promoted to Junior Associate, strengthening her role within the team advising clients on corporate and regulatory matters.

Her academic background and professional experience have enabled her to develop a practical approach to corporate and administrative law, with a strong focus on regulatory compliance and business efficiency.

Representative Experience

She has experience handling administrative procedures before regulatory and governmental authorities, including tax, municipal, environmental, and commercial matters.

She has participated in regulatory processes before the Central Reserve Bank (BCR) and the Superintendence of Electricity and Telecommunications (SIGET), particularly in obtaining authorizations, regulatory compliance, and advising Bitcoin service providers.

In the corporate field, she has supported due diligence processes and regularly prepares corporate documentation such as minutes, certifications, and public deeds. She also assists in drafting and reviewing contracts, particularly in the commercial real estate sector.

Her practice combines corporate advisory with regulatory support, contributing to legal compliance and the efficient operation of businesses.
